DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7, 12 and 14-22 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shover (U.S. Patent No. 2,173,215).

Shover discloses a receiving component having a longitudinal axis and defining a cavity (see Figure 1 below), a modular tip including a mating component (13), a locking mechanism (18) at the receiving component (located at the end of a handle (5 and 6)) that extends through the cavity that is slideably moveable to and from a locked position while the locking mechanism engages at least two surfaces of the mating component, and the mating component is coupled to the receiving component to form a coupling such that the coupling without the engagement of the locking mechanism to the mating component can prevent relative movement between the mating component and the receiving component when a force is applied to the coupling in a direction substantially parallel to the longitudinal axis. The geometry of the mating component as well as the cavity will not allow movement in a parallel direction when a force is applied in that same direction. The threads of the locking member are considered to be planar, tapered and will be contacted on the both (top and bottom) thread when slideably engaged with the mating component. In www.dictionary.com, "slide" is defined as to move along in continuous contact with a smooth surface, which is the action that is happening when the locking member is being threadably screwed from the receiving component and into the mating component. Also, the receiving component includes a recess and an opening that form a connecting member in the receiving component, where the connecting member is configured to cooperatively engage a recess in the mating component.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8 and 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

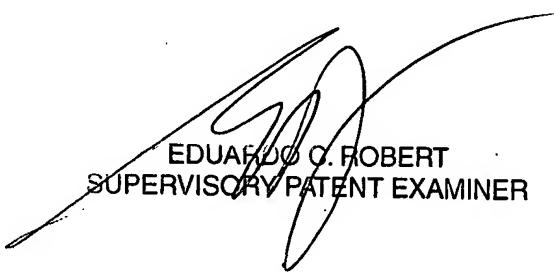

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
